GOES TO TRENTON.

Mr. Hughes left at midnight for Trenton, N. J., where he will speak tomorrow morning, and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where he will deliver an address tomorrow night.

During the afternoon Mr. Hughes visited Homestead, Duquesne, McKeesport, Millersburg and East Pittsburgh, addressing audiences of disaffected millworkers at every stop. At one big plant the 1500 workers were given an hour off on full time to hear him. The managers of his tour estimated that it cost this company $2000 in wages to have Mr. Hughes visit their plant.

After the long motor trip Mr. Hughes reviewed a big parade of Republicans tonight. They marched past his hotel six and eight abreast,

SEEK RESCUER AND RESCUED.

Five Believed Lost at Sea on Ship Catarina.

Captain and Charterer Bound by Unusual Ties.

Ask Government to Send Tug to Search for Them.

Late last night Admiral Caperton, commander of the Pacific fleet, received instructions from Washington to have the cruiser South Dakota, and the destroyer Lawrence proceed south under full steam to endeavor to locate the missing sailing schooner Catarina and its crew. As soon as these orders were received the cruiser and its convoy left San Diego Harbor at full speed and proceeded toward the Cedros Islands, where the Catarina is supposed to be.

Though depressed by the return of their first relief expedition with no trace of the missing men, officials of the Magdalena Bay Company yesterday took steps to send out a larger and more complete expedition to see if Arthur Blackman, assistant general manager of the company, and his companion, Capt. T. L. Curtis of Long Beach, can be located. Mr. Blackman and Capt. Curtis were en route to San Diego in the sailing schooner Catarina of Magdalena Bay when last heard from.

John Blackman, father of the missing man, and head of the company, yesterday telegraphed authorities in Washington requesting permission to use the United States government tug Itasca, now stationed at San Diego, as a relief boat. Permission is expected in time so that the tugboat, now lying under full steam in the harbor, may start south along the coast early today.

A month ago Mr. Blackman and Capt. Curtis started for Magdalena Bay on the Freda, to repair the Catarina, then on the beach there, and tow her north, where an engine was to be installed. Capt. Curtis, an expert boatbuilder and sailing master of long experience, was in charge of the actual repairing and sailing.

The work finished, the Freda started north, towing the Catarina. At the Cedros Islands Capt. Blair of the Freda discovered his oil was running low, and decided he could not make San Diego unless he dropped his tow. After a conference with Mr. Blackman and Capt. Curtis it was decided the Freda would continue alone, and Capt. Curtis, with his three Mexican sailors and Mr. Blackman, should sail as best they could.

Capt. Blair and the Freda arrived at San Diego over a week ago, but as the days passed no sign was seen of the Catarina. Mr. John Blackman, whose headquarters are in this city, was in San Diego to meet his son. Becoming alarmed at the delay, he telegraphed to the Catarina, he chartered the gasoline schooner Nonsuch, and started out to hunt for the missing schooner.

It is now believed that the only hope of the survival of the missing men is that they put back to the Cedros Islands because of inclement weather. The tug Itasca, if permission is granted at Washington, will proceed at once to the islands, and will also inspect the waters of the coast far out to sea.

A remarkable feature of the possible tragedy is that last July Arthur Blackman arrived at the Cedros Islands in the nick of time to save Capt. Curtis, his present commandant, from death by starvation. Capt. Curtis had been shipwrecked on the islands with three Mexican sailors and two days' provisions. Despite this the four men lived ten days on ashore and were rescued by a homeward-bound ship. Mr. Blackman rescued the party on the tenth day.

Hands Over Deed.

In Judge Craig's court yesterday J. Newton Nye, a rancher at Bell station, was held on a charge of failure to provide for his wife and eight children. He was released after depositing with the court a deed to some of his property to the value of $10,000.

It is claimed that Nye left his wife to live with a woman across the street, taking some of the live stock with him. He was arrested about a week ago, with Mrs. Florence Sprague, on charges of desertion and child support. This year's faculty has been enlarged and the scope of the work widened.

At the opening of the following will speak: President Howard of the University of Southern California, Dr. Charles Edward Locke, Rev. E. H. Lusk, Dr. William D. Stephens, Dean L. G. Ford and Dr. John E. McCoy.

mental aberration, had never found one like this. While apparently mildly insane, he would relate at times details of his past in a lucid manner. He repeatedly mentioned the name of Butler, in connection with his family. Medical men who observed him noted his peculiar manner of rubbing his head in a certain place, on which were the remains of a scar. They concluded he had been injured and that a bone fragment of the skull was pressing down upon the delicate brain tissue beneath.

The repeated mention of Butler, the authorities concluded, must mean the place in which he formerly had lived. There are many towns of that name in the United States, and some time elapsed before an answer was received from Pennsylvania, stating that a James Rice formerly had lived there, and that he had disappeared.

To questions of his former life Rice's answers were vague. Seemingly he recalled his past only in the dim, uncertain way that a sleeper recalls the events of a strange dream. It is that events which cover months and even years take place within a few moments, in so far as he is concerned. While he can discuss details of his past, when they are recalled to him, his intelligence ceases there, his responsibility to them and to society, all have ceased to have a meaning to him, for the human element is locked within the recesses of his clouded soul.

Butler, Pa., is but a few days' journey from the Los Angeles County Farm, yet between James Rice and his past life there is a vast gulf. And yet, if the operation which the scientists are contemplating proves successful, Rice will emerge from his "Rip Van Winkle" sleep to take his place in life at the point where, years ago, his intelligence slipped down into darkness.

FIRM IS BANKRUPT.

S. V. and D. H. Harthorn, and the last-named individually, doing business in the piano trade at No. 246 Pine street, Long Beach, filed petitions in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, yesterday. The debts of the firm are estimated at $22,292.23, and assets at $3,776.45. The debts of D. H. Harthorn individually amount to $270.76, and assets of $562, of which amount $5000 is exempt.

ADMIT APPLICANTS.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday admitted the following applicants to practice, on motion: W. S. Holman, Harold M. Stern, Adelaide Lohr Weber, William F. Richmond, Fred A. Hellbronn and Will M. Tompkins.

NO INFRINGEMENT.

Gas Corporation Wins Suit, Regulator Is Valid.

In the patent infringement case of the Perfection Gas Regulator Company against the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Judge Cushman decided in favor of the defendant. The alleged infringement was in regard to a gas regulator, and the court held the claim of the defendant corporation was valid, and there was no infringement.

The particular gas regulator was a novelty gas feed, by which control could be withdrawn without disconnecting the gas feed and gas pipes from the casing.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

An Open Letter to the President.

BY WILLIAM M. BRISTOL, FARMER.

To the President, Washington.

Sir: Your pronouncement that the eight-hour day has arrived fills me with profound and conflicting emotions. For so thoughtful a student of sociology as yourself must know whereof he speaks when he makes an announcement of this kind.

As I cannot believe that one holding the exalted position of Chief Executive—and chief proposer—of the nation, with its consequent opportunity for broad vision, would favor class or discriminatory legislation, I assume that the law recently enacted making eight hours a legal day's labor for railway trainmen is simply the first of a series of like enactments which shall follow one another as fast as thought by those engaged in other industries.

Well, here come the farmers! Long-haired and long-suffering, patient plodders, practically without unions or other organization, we come asking for that halcyon day in which we shall work eight hours, sleep eight hours and devote the other eight to recreation. We have read a bit, some of us, but we never happened to open our histories at the page where it is related that statutory legislation, on a certain auspicious day, made the eight-hour law of supply and demand in the regulation of the world's commerce. It is not found in any of the books on Dr. Elihu's theory of the eight-hour day, but the learned doctor will certainly add "Things of the Congress" to his list.

Of course, to be perfectly fair, the universal eight-hour law must forbid any farmer to work overtime unless he chooses more for what he produces thereby. My own feeling is that no one engaged in agriculture should be permitted to put in any overtime. Some sneak—I will not say "farmer"—will want to get in four or five hours extra and buy an auto with the proceeds. That is the way most of us hayseeds have gotten our machines, but I frankly confess it was not quite fair. Anyhow we can patch them up so we shall not spend our recreation time in wearing them out.

Pleasantly aside, Mr. President, the farmer is not asking for an eight-hour day, because he knows that neither he nor the nation can afford it. He does not doubt that he would enjoy it, but his close contact with nature has all wonderfully moods and ways teaches him that it would not be good business economy.

Mr. Harrison, speaking for the trainmen before a Congressional committee recently, likened the human race to the primitive cave-men—each trying to take his neighbor's half-picked bone away. That is the state of the world today, for he himself diligently seeks to produce from the soil rather than despoil his neighbor. He knows that if the human race produces an abundance of useful things it will live more comfortably. He knows that the cost of living today is not as high as fifty years ago, and that the fragment of helping him in his work and his luxuries unknown half a century ago. And there is another thing the farmer knows—especially the farmer A. L. Woodill of Riverside.

ECHO OF A BITTER FOUGHT LAND CASE.

IN SUIT FOR RECOVERY OF A QUARTER SECTION.

Man Who Lost Claim by Ruling from Washington and Was Convinced of Harassing Winner Now Attacks the Authority of the Federal Department.

The ghost of one of the bitterest fought land cases ever heard in the United States District Court stalked through the corridors of the Federal Building Monday, when William B. Edwards filed an action for the recovery of a quarter section of land in Riverside county, specifically designated as the northeast quarter of section 11, township 7, south, range 22, east, S. B. M. The defendant in the action is Patrick H. Bodkin, a retired minister who had been awarded the land by a decision of the Secretary of the Interior.

The bill, filed through a pauper affidavit signed by Edwards, and allowed by Judge Cushman, recites the various phases of the litigation, and in the prayer Edwards asks for the restoration of the land, he alleges the "erroneous theory of authority and jurisdiction held by the land department, and the condition of bias and prejudice existing therein," as an explanation of the reason why he did not get the land.

In April, 1914, Edwards and Robert L. Cuipepper were convicted in the local Federal Court of injuring and oppressing a citizen (Patrick H. Bodkin) in the exercise of his constitutional rights, and the two were sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and spend four months in the Riverside County Jail. John McLaren, Lee Wells, William Wells and Arch Robinson, jointly indicted with Edwards and Cuipepper, were acquitted of the charge. This judgment was affirmed by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

The evidence showed that after Mr. Bodkin had been awarded the land and settled on it, making it his permanent home, Edwards and others sought to intimidate him and his family by shooting up the vicinity and making threats. Edwards had originally entered the land, but lost possession through an adverse decision of the authorities at Washington.

TROUBLE OVER ESTATE.

Daughter of Late Mrs. Mary Greer Carson is Appointed by Court to Look After Property Interests—Legal Battle Between Relatives.

Mrs. J. E. Mechin was yesterday appointed special administratrix of the estate of her mother, Mrs. Mary Greer Carson, who died June 26. Back of this appointment is the story of a legal battle between brother and sister, charges and denials that Mrs. Carson was of unsound mind, and a telegram sent by the brother announcing the death of his mother before she died.

Mrs. Mechin alleges that her mother's will was signed at a date subsequent to her death, and that she was influenced by her brother, Harry Spencer Carson. It is also alleged that Harry had his mother execute a deed conveying all her property to him under the pretense of raising means to care for her. The brother denies that his mother was incompetent and says that he made out the note and mortgage for her. He also denies that he succeeded in taking his mother to the Good Samaritan Hospital. He admitted he sent the telegram saying his mother was dead, but states he did so under an erroneous impression.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—For the nineteenth consecutive session, exclusive of two week ends, today's market experienced another period of excessive activity which again lifted the total dealings well beyond a million shares. The movement was more comprehensive and more active than any of the past three weeks in that a very large proportion of the turnover consisted of dividend-paying investment issues, as distinguished from speculative or less stable character. The so-called "blue chips," particularly Union Pacific, which led all stocks in the extensive trading of the foreign session; Standard Oil, and the other "blue chips," the grangers, New York Central and Pennsylvania, afford a foundation for later operations in more speculative favorites. Most of the rally on gains of 1 to 3 points, was at best prices in one to two points, and the market was not so far from its former level as it was at the close of the week.

At the close of the week, the market was at a low level, and the rally on gains of 1 to 3 points, was at best prices in one to two points, and the market was not so far from its former level as it was at the close of the week.

ELEVATOR CAGE STRIKES BOY.

Looks Down Shaft to See if Thing Runs.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Pays Crown City a Visit.

Attorney Close to Death as Result of Operation.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PASADENA, Sept. 28.—When Charles Robinson, 18 years, looked down an elevator shaft to see if the elevator was ascending late yesterday afternoon at the Austin Biscuit Factory, on South Fair Oaks avenue, the lift descended from above and struck him on the head, inflicting injuries that may prove to be fatal.

The youth's skull was fractured, his scalp torn and his nose broken. He was taken to the Marengo Avenue Hospital. The accident was witnessed by a number of the young man's fellow-employees, including several young women who work in the candy department.

Mr. Robinson had not recovered consciousness last night at the hospital.

MUST SMELL SMOKE.

One of the important qualifications of a forest ranger is his ability to smell smoke. Forest Ranger Thomas W. Sloan, in charge of the district ranger's office in the Federal Building, gave a striking illustration of his abilities along this line last evening at a social gathering at the Postoffice Station A, on North Fair Oaks avenue, and detected the odor of smoke coming from a stove in a room in the back of the building.

Thinking that perhaps the building was on fire, Mr. Sloan and others made an investigation. There was no blaze, but smoke was issuing from a stove that apparently had been overcooked with waste paper. No one but a ranger with a highly sensitive nose could have detected the odor of smoke through the two partitions.

MRS. POTTER PALMER.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, noted Chicago social leader who was decorated by the French government with the medal of the Legion of Honor for her work as the only woman member of the national committee for the Paris exposition, arrived at the Maryland yesterday with her brother, A. C. Honore, and servants. She is here on a pleasure visit, and in the afternoon took a motor car ride. She expressed admiration for Pasadena and the Southland, but said she declined to be interviewed.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

The Pasadena Music and Art Association, yesterday afternoon, presented an interesting programme of concerts for the coming season. Aside from the three concerts to be given by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, two other concerts will be given by famous musicians instead of only one as heretofore. The first concert will be given by the orchestra, and the second by the orchestra and soloists.

LAND OFFICE DECIDES AGAINST OIL COMPANY.

John D. Cane Scores in His Claim Against the Eight Oil Company as to the Title of Oil-bearing Land Near Visalia—Another Appeal is to be Taken in the Case.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

VISALIA, Sept. 28.—The General Land Office at Washington has reversed a decision made some months ago by the title of oil-bearing land near Visalia. Another appeal is to be taken in the case.

The land was located by the defendant company for a deposit of Fuller's earth. The Associated Oil Company secured a lease on the property, developing a number of oil wells. The defendant company then filed an action against the title of the Eight Oil Company, alleging that the location for mineral deposits was a subterfuge and that no development for Fuller's earth was ever made.

The trial consumed a month. Experts from all parts of the United States gave evidence for both defense and prosecution.

The local officials found that the title of the Eight Oil Company was valid and that their original location was made in good faith. The Associated Oil Company, through Culp, appealed the case, and the reversal of the decision was handed down. The attorneys for the Eight Oil Company have declared their intention of further appeal to the Department of the Interior.

AEROPLANE TURNS TURTLE IN THE AIR.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 27.—Francis Wildman, instructor at the North Island aviation school here, had a narrow escape from death today when the aeroplane which he was testing turned turtle and dashed to the ground. Wildman was bruised and the machine was partially damaged.

Wildman was making a series of tests at a low altitude of an aeroplane equipped with a new control system, when the wires jammed. The aviator managed to twist the machine so that it hit the ground sideways, the impact tearing the engine loose and demolishing the fuselage and wings.

KICKED WOMAN IN THE FACE.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA ANA, Sept. 25.—William W. Reed kicked Mrs. Emma Gay in the face so hard that he sprained his foot. He can hardly walk. Moreover, he has been arrested for battery.

Reed and his wife and Mrs. Gay are in a camp of walnut pickers on the San Joaquin Fruit Company's ranch. Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Gay got into a dispute and Mrs. Reed slapped Mrs. Gay's face. This was no hair-pulling contest. The women doubled up their faces and hit each other with their fists. Mrs. Reed then kicked Mrs. Gay in the face and she fell to the ground. Mrs. Reed was brought into court and charged with battery.

"DRYS" MAD AT SCHOOL BOARD.

Request to Put Placards in Schools Refused.

Campaign Managers Indignant Over Action.

United States Submarine to be Launched Today.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

LONG BEACH, Sept. 27.—Because the Board of Education, last night, refused permission of the California dry forces to place campaign placards in the schools, a storm is brewing in the city. Open threats of a recall fall to disturb the equality of the members of the board, who say that they are but complying with the regulations of the district, which prohibits advertising of any kind in the schools.

Those who are conversant with the situation establish a connection between the board's action and the defeat of the bonds for building intermediate schools four months ago. At that time the religious forces worked so hard to secure the defeat of the bonds that the board would not abolish folk dances in the schools. A mass meeting was held the evening before the election by church people, resulting in the defeat of the bonds.

Justice S. H. Underwood, who made the motion to deny the request, stated that he was in favor of a dry state, but doubted the wisdom of allowing the cards to be placed in the schools. President Crutcher of the board, although wearing a California dry button, voted against allowing the plea, as did the three other members.

Dr. George D. Knights, dry enthusiast, stated that the board's action was a very poor reproduction of an alleged Greek athlete, and not because it was "in the nude," was the explanation given by Horace M. Rebek, superintendent of the Santa Monica public schools in an address before the Young Men's Club at the Breakers Cafe of his desire for the elimination of the engraving from the second-grade reader in use here.

His opposition to the picture, he said, was with a view of guarding the mind of the student that it might be directed in channels where true art reveals "in all the glory of an uplifting influence," rather than become "contaminated with irreverent, half-drawn lines and an inconsequential effort at artistic presentation."

Mr. Rebek, primarily, declared that his attitude was apparently misunderstood, or made to appear so. The print carried no word of explanation, but rather seemed to be

SUBMARINE LAUNCHING.

At 9:15 tomorrow morning the submarine L-7 will glide from the ways at the California shipbuilding plant. This is the second of the five undersea vessels being constructed by the company for the United States Navy.

The L-7 is a 160-foot-long, 16-foot-diameter, 16-ton vessel, and it is improbable that it will suffer the fate of the L-5 and stick in the mud.

Mrs. Lloyd Frier Fogarty, wife of William B. Fogarty, naval constructor who has supervised the construction of the vessel, will christen the L-7 with a bottle of California champagne donated by the Italian Swiss Colony. It will be inside a silver basket, handsomely engraved, which will be kept as a souvenir by Mrs. Fogarty.

Police will take care that none but the official photographer of the company gets any snapshots of the submarine as she slides from the ways. Admission to the plant for the launching will be by invitation, but thousands will, it is expected, watch the event from the opposite shore of the channel.

Pomona Young Man Engaged in Prospecting Disappears and Belief is Expressed that He Lost His Life While Traveling Over the Drifting Sands.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

POMONA, Sept. 27.—C. E. Genung and son Carroll, who is now a student at Pomona College, are outfitting their Ford runabout in preparation for a trip into the Arizona desert, where they will search for R. H. Genung, who has been lost for nearly two months.

The searchers will leave here Friday morning with supplies sufficient to run them a month. They will go direct to Mohawk, where they will organize a searching party and scour the territory between Mohawk and Ajo in the hope of recovering the remains of the missing man, who is supposed to have died on the desert early in August.

The object of the search is a son of C. E. Genung, and brother of Carroll. He was a miner at Mohawk. The first week in August he set out alone for Ajo to inspect some ore. When his wife did not hear from him within a reasonable length of time she sent a searching party after him, but the hunters failed to find him, so now the father and brother are going to go over the trail in the hope of uncovering the strange mystery of the burning sands.

Mr. Rebek stated that he wrote to the State Superintendent of Schools, Derwin, because he was opposed to the nude in art, but because he saw no reason why the print should appear.

"If it had been Niobe, or some figure that would have some meaning to the pupil," said Mr. Rebek, "everybody would have understood. The Grecian ideals are different from ours."

The speaker said that he believed in such ideals as the beauty of intellect, of the expression of the face, and of the mother. He did not consider that it was right to use his letter to the State Superintendent of Schools in the manner that it was.

WITNESS CLAIMS LAND JUGGLING.

Alfalfa-Dairying Scheme Fails Investors.

Government Presses Case Against Promoters.

Defense Insists Company was Legitimate.

The star witness in behalf of the government yesterday in the trial of J. B. Mayer, promoter of the First National Bank of Corcoran, and Fred L. Foster, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with the operations and promotion of the Alfalfa Farming and Dairying Company, before a jury in Federal Judge Trippett's court, was Martin Lundahl of this city, who claimed to have bought 250 shares of the capital stock of the company at 75 cents a share, on payments, and then traded a ranch of seven acres in the vicinity of Beaumont, for $600 shares more.

He testified representations were made to him by Fred L. Foster that the corporation owned 1100 acres of the Hansen ranch in Kings county and had an option on 3000 more acres, that there were 100 Holstein cows on the place, 200 dry and 200 giving milk; that the company had $15,000 worth of cattle on hand, and was about to receive a large sum of money from the sale of the ranch, and that there was a sure profit of 12 per cent. in the investment for 1916, that would increase to 20 per cent. in 1917.

The witness said he wrote one of the defendants, J. B. Mayer, at Corcoran, in regard to the desirability of the purchase, but Mayer answered that he had not been connected with the company for a year and his understanding was that the land had reverted to the original owner, Hansen. This was after Lundahl had made a large investment in the company.

Lundahl said when he became dissatisfied with his bargain Fred L. Foster promised to reimburse him to the extent of $15,000 at the International Land and Cattle Company, to be organized "soon." This was in August, 1915.

BARBER WAS SLOW. N. Hansen, owner of the Kings county ranch, was scolded by the court for not being on time, but the offender claimed he stopped at a barber shop and the tonsorial artist was slow. He testified he had given an option to Fred L. Foster for the purchase of 1100 acres of land for $150,000, and of this sum Foster was to receive a commission of $10,000. The deeds for the land were placed in escrow in the First National Bank at Corcoran, but Foster never made good on the option and it was revoked.

W. H. Ginn bought 100 shares at 75 cents and he testified as to the alleged misrepresentation of the enterprise in Kings county in glowing terms from the eyes of a prospective investor, and Ginn said he had not read the letter before attaching his signature and knew nothing about the Alfalfa Farming and Dairying Company except that the land involved was all right.

Mrs. Catherine Mahler of Pasadena, 51 years old, was recalled, and it was shown she received a letter in the capital stock of the Alfalfa Farming and Dairying Company $10,000, representing the value of 10,000 shares, from the estate of her deceased husband, Jacob Mahler. She had never received any profit from the investment, she alleged.

SUMMED UP. The evidence of the day showed there had been no business of the Alfalfa Farming and Dairying Company about $15,000 from the sale of stock, and the 25 per cent. of this amount was paid to selling agents, J. K. Tobin and W. A. Green, principally. Of the amount left $15,000 was paid to Fred L. Foster for the land. When the crash came it is alleged that R. L. Foster, father of Fred L. Foster, tried to make good some of the losses to investors, and the payment of expenses, but there has so far been shown no evidence where any payments were made to those who had put their money in the enterprise.

The defense, shown by the cross-examination, is seeking to make the point that the company was a legitimate one and would have succeeded under ordinary circumstances. Sincere denials are made in regard to the misrepresentation of the stock by anybody connected with the corporation.

At the conclusion of the day's testimony, it is known that there were faults in the indictment with references to the sending of the letter by Fred L. Foster to O. G. Brynner on April 1, 1915, of using the mails to defraud, upon which was based the charge and it was understood that this morning the jury will take up the conspiracy charge against Mayer and Foster.

This will mean the end of the case against these two defendants so far as it relates to the illegal use of the mails.

Divided. ORGANIST'S TROUBLES. Wife, from Whom He's Separated, Begins Fight to Recover Son and Daughter, Placed in Care of Their Father During Vacation.

Mrs. Maud M. Merwin by habeas corpus proceedings in the Juvenile Court, through Attorney John Boardley, yesterday began a fight to recover possession of Rhumach, 11, and Robert, 9, her daughter and son, who were returned to her by her husband, Duncan M. Merwin, organist of a Pasadena church, after the school vacation period. The couple are separated, and under an agreement Mrs. Merwin says she was to have the custody of the boy and girl during the school term, and Mr. Merwin was to have them in the vacation season.

Mr. Merwin contends that his wife endeavored to poison the minds of the children against him, and for this reason she is not the proper person to have control of them. This was his reason for failing to keep the provisions of the alleged agreement.

Judge Reeve continued the case until October 21. Meantime, Mrs. Merwin was given the custody of the children, and the latter to be sent to a military school.

The Public Service.

At the City Hall. COMPETITION IS CALLED UNFAIR.

JUSTICE FOR ELECTRIC LINE ASKED BY HOLLYWOOD.

Board of Trade Requests Council to Not Allow Jitney Buses to Run on Streets Where Pacific Electric is Giving Reasonably Rapid Service and Providing Seats.

The Hollywood Board of Trade yesterday registered with the City Council and the Board of Public Utilities its objections to the jitney-bus competition as presently allowed. It recommends that while the Pacific Electric provides seats and reasonably rapid service to the Hollywood people no permission be given the jitney buses to compete over the streets where the street cars run, but that the jitney buses be allowed franchises on any streets in Hollywood that are not now served by electric railways and that will open up a new territory of service for Hollywood people. The board, however, wants any such jitney-bus franchise to be subject to the same rules and regulations that govern the franchises granted to be under proper requirements.

The Board of Trade, in an official resolution, said that it is the policy of the Pacific Electric Railway Company is an important factor in the upbuilding of Hollywood; that it has made a large investment for the purpose of serving the people of the city and that it is paying and has paid a large proportion of the expense of the paved boulevards through Hollywood and into the city, and that it is contributing in an appreciable amount to the tax funds of the city and State.

It is believed that the jitney-bus competition as now allowed by the city is unfair to the street railway company, as it does not require the purchase of franchises, the payment of gross income taxes, an equal responsibility to the public, and permits competition on lines that are already served without requiring the jitney to open up new territory as the electric railway has done.

The board also believes that such unfair competition will tend to bring better transportation service to Hollywood or to the opening of new lines of transportation in Hollywood, but will tend to destroy the which has proven beneficial to this community.

NOT QUITE ENOUGH. SEWER EXPENDITURE.

Twenty thousand dollars is to be spent by the Universal Film Manufacturing Company in the private sewer system to connect with the Hollywood outfall, but the company does not wish to expend the money at a greater rate than $100 a week. The City Engineer reported to the Board of Public Works yesterday that at that rate it would delay the completion of the work for about a year and he advised that the company be required to increase the amount.

Members of the board agreed with the Engineer that the amount named was not large enough and no action was taken before adjourning. Further consideration will be given the subject at today's meeting.

"IMPENDING DOOM."

Seven men, describing themselves as householders, are being investigated on the south side of that winding stream known as the Los Angeles River, between Boyle avenue and the Salt Lake bridge, asked the Board of Public Works yesterday to save them from what they fear is "impending doom."

They assert that because of the construction of a dam and a sewer across the river at Boyle avenue, diverting the flow of the water to the south, they are convinced the river will overflow its banks during storm seasons, sweeping away their property and endangering their lives. They inform the board that future litigation will be avoided if the peril is averted.

CONFERENCE ON POWER QUESTION.

It is planned to hold another conference on the power question today or tomorrow, at which time the city's proposition for a power plant on the south side of the Los Angeles River, the Pacific Light and Power Corporation, the City Engineer and the City Electric Corporation may be formulated. The city asks the State Railroad Commission to file the valuation for the three systems, and in lieu of severance damages the city may offer to contract with the companies to buy power under the aqueduct plants are completed.

It is believed an arrangement can be made with the power companies whereby they will accept $1,500,000 as a first payment on their distribution systems, the balance to be paid out of earnings.

SHE GETS A DECREE; HE GETS PICTURES.

COURT'S ACTION IN DIVORCE CASE AGAINST ACTOR.

Orders Payment of Hundred Dollars a Month to Plaintiff, but Gives Defendant Possession of Valuable Portraits that are Family Heirlooms.

Mrs. Lucy Roberts was granted a decree of divorce from Theodore Roberts, the actor, in Judge Wood's court yesterday on the ground of desertion and nonsupport. The testimony was not sensational and the evidence was confined exclusively to the minor allegations.

Once only did Mr. Roberts show a flash. This was when he declared that the statement of Mrs. Roberts, in effect that certain heirlooms had been given to her by Mr. Roberts's mother, was false. The heirlooms are paintings of the Madonna, portraits of Mrs. Roberts's father and mother, and others which had hung on the walls of the actor's boyhood home.

The court declared that Mr. Roberts is entitled to their possession. The pictures seem to be scattered, and Mr. Roberts may have difficulty in tracing them.

The order of the court was that Mr. Roberts shall pay his wife $100 a month for one year, and $75 a month thereafter, the proviso being that judgment obtained in New York against Mr. Roberts are to be cancelled and Mr. Roberts released from the obligations, in view of the fact that he has no property and is depending on his salary as a film actor.

DAMAGE SUIT.

TROUBLE OVER WATER RIGHT. Judge Dewhurst of San Bernardino in extra sessions court yesterday in the continued hearing of the suit of J. C. Crisler against J. F. Holloway to recover $4000 paid on a contract, and for $15,000 damages, growing out of alleged water rights. The case was continued until 3 o'clock.

In this action it is alleged that on the representations of Mr. Holloway that he had the absolute and fee simple right to a portion of the flow of Big Rock Creek, Mr. Crisler paid him $4000 and gave him promissory notes for the balance, and that the value of the crop raised was but $25. Mr. Crisler claimed the alleged representations were false, and Holloway denied any misrepresentation.

CHARGES FRAUD.

WANTS MONEY RETURNED. William B. Palmer filed suit against J. L. Hollingsworth yesterday, charging that he had been induced to buy San Diego mission land; that Hollingsworth had received $15,000 from him, and that he had not returned the money, and that he had discovered $5000 worth of the price paid for the land was actually $5,000. He asks judgment for $10,000 actual and $3000 punitive damages.
